

A notebook page with a paperclip on the left and a pen on the right. The text is written in a purple, cursive font on lined paper.

Almost all of my life I've lived in a body that society considers plus size. It is now that I realize, what's so wrong with that?! One of my many observations with being a plus sized woman is the way we are perceived. I always get the "you're cute for a big girl" comment. Is that truly a compliment or an insult in disguise? Either way, Confidence is KEY! My mission is to inspire and empower other women who look like me. Looking good is essential, no matter how big or small. My size is a PLUS, and BIG is my Brand, so I own it!